Bloomberg Businessweek/Chinese Edition
“Top Fund Awards 2021” Results Announcement

[Hong Kong · 10 December 2021] Bloomberg Businessweek/Chinese Edition is pleased to present “Top Fund Awards 2021”. Now in its eighth year, the Top Fund Awards is widely recognized by the industry for honouring the best performing Hong Kong listed funds from across the globe. The awards are given in three categories - Mutual Funds, Exchange-traded Funds, and Mandatory Funds.

The Award applies Bloomberg data-driven and performance-based methodology evaluating funds subject to asset class categories to identify the best performing funds. All assessments are based on market figures and historical data available on the Bloomberg Terminal. Among the three major categories, Mutual Fund Awards are measured by market performance and asset classes in the past 12 months while the Exchange Traded Fund Awards are ranked on one-year tracking error and total return. Mandatory Provident Fund Awards are assessed with 1-year, 5-years, and 10-years total return figures.

About Bloomberg Businessweek/Chinese Edition

The Chinese edition of Bloomberg Businessweek was first launched in 2011 in simplified Chinese version in mainland China, then in mid-2013 in traditional Chinese version in Hong Kong and Taiwan. The bi-weekly is built on the agreement between Bloomberg LP in New York and Hong Kong-listed Modern Media. The two Chinese editions have a total audited circulation of more than 400,000 copies per issue across the straits and the mobile APP of traditional Chinese version has over 1,320,000 accumulated downloads.
